HAWAIIAN SUGAR TO GO VIA CANAL

Cars of raw Hawaiian sugar from the last shipment of this season's crop that is likely to be transported overland have begun to arrive freely in both New York and Philadelphia, says Facts About Sugar.

The American-Hawaiian steamship Mexican left Hilo on her last voyage for the year on September 26, arriving in San Francisco October 5, and the first cars reaching Philadelphia and New York on October 30 and November 1 respectively.

This is considered quick delivery in the present congested movement of traffic, when cars are often delayed for weeks in their overland transit. The final car from a voyage of the Mexican completed two months previously to this last one did not reach New York until November 10.

In order to conserve the use of available cars for the eastward transportation of beet sugar from the West, it is thought probable that all the remaining Hawaiian sugar will be transhipped through the canal in the vessels being withdrawn from the Pacific by the shipping board.

There are due at New York and Philadelphia the following quantities of raw Hawaiian sugar still in transit across the continent, in addition to the two later cargoes amounting to 10,610 tons noted last week as expected to arrive through the canal: Ex Mexican, 600 tons; ex Osago, 969 tons; ex Texan, 3920 tons; ex Mexican, 11,240 tons; total, by rail, 16,720 tons. A shipment of 650 tons just received at San Francisco by the Matson steamship Enterprise, will be added to the cargo of the Wachusett, which has been delayed in sailing for the canal. This makes a total of nearly 26,000 tons of Hawaiian sugar now in transit east of San Francisco.

WORLD'S COFFEE KING DIES AT BADEN BADEN

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—An unfirmed report of the death in Baden-Baden, Germany, of Herman Sietcken, one of the world's greatest coffee merchants, was declared today.

The firm of Cross & Sietcken, of which Mr. Sietcken was the guiding influence, was dissolved recently by order of the federal government under the trading-with-the-enemy act.

WEEKLY PRODUCE REPORT

By A. T. LONGLEY, Marketing Superintendent.
ISSUED BY THE TERRITORIAL MARKETING DIVISION
FOR WEEK ENDING DEC. 7.

There is no small yellow corn in the market and very little large island corn. Anyone having corn for sale should ship it to the market as soon as possible.

The shipments of Maui beans are increasing and selling faster than they have been for some time past. Maui red beans are selling from $8.50 to $9.00, while calico beans are selling from $10.50 to $11.00 a hundred. The reason for the calico beans selling so high is that there are very few in the market, as most of the Maui farmers are raising red beans this year.

During the week a shipment of Maui beans was sent to the coast by one of the local firms. We hope that all the island people will use island beans so that it will not be necessary for anyone else to make shipments to the coast.

A shipment of very good small white beans was received from Maui and sold for $12.50 a hundred. Shipments of small white beans that are well graded find a ready market but most of the small white beans received from Maui are not graded and very dirty. Farmers wishing to get good returns on their produce, should see that their produce is properly graded, cleaned and packed before shipping to the market. This will help them as well as the market and give the island produce a good name.

Sweet potatoes are not plentiful as they have been for the past few weeks but we still have a good supply of them coming in.

Limes are scarce and the demand is good. Any one having limes should ship them immediately.

A small shipment of island Irish potatoes was received during the week. Next week we expect to receive a large shipment of Irish potatoes from Kauai.

By closing the retail departments we have more time to give to the wholesaling of island produce and anyone having any quantity of island produce for sale should get in touch with the Division.
